

Chazak, Chazak, V'Nitchazek

In our tradition, when we finish one book of the Torah, we say the phrase, chazak, chazak, v'nitchazek, which essentially means that as we finish one book of Torah, we ask that it give us strength as we move forward in life.

Rabbi Maya Glasser started her rabbinic career here three years ago and, in that time, she has shared an enormous wealth of Torah with us. Each one of us, myself included, has benefited greatly by her teachings. We have watched her and been a part of her journey as she moves from assistant rabbi to rabbi of a congregation of her own. I'm sure each one of us can list many things that we're very grateful to her for over these last three years.

I hope you will all join me for Shabbat services on May 21st as we thank her for her time with us and wish her the very best as she and Jake head down to Jacksonville, FL to forge a new path forward. Personally, I am very excited for all that she's going to do and I'm sure, beyond a shadow of a doubt that she is going to have a great impact on all of her congregants. I am sure of that, because she had a great impact on all of us. So, as she concludes her tenure with us, I can only think of the words from our tradition, chazak, chazak, v'nitchazek, and I hope that the time she has spent engaging in Torah with us has not only made her stronger, but us stronger, and that she will move from strength to strength and help strengthen others by the Torah she has to teach.

One of the pivotal moments of our people's history was receiving Torah on Mt. Sinai. This event has rippled down through the generations and Jews in each generation have interpreted this event differently. Join us as we consider what this event means to us in 2021. Ten congregants will be joining us to share what the Ten Commandments mean to them. They will discuss how they feel about them, how they wrestle with them and how the commandments impact their lives.

Introducing Connections@AEMT

a new program for families with young children who are interested in building Jewish values and a commitment to Jewish life

As an inclusive community, we believe that one of the greatest gifts we can give our children is access to a Jewish education. Families with young children in Pre-K through 2nd grade are invited to join Anshe Emeth's Religious School program without the requirement of becoming a Temple member. While your children attend Religious School during the Connections period, your family will have many occasions to connect with other Religious School families and our congregation throughout the year. This is an extraordinary opportunity for your children to embrace their Jewish identity and for your family to experience the joys and beauty of Judaism.

Enrollment fees:

Before July 30 - $750 per student

After July 30 - $800 per student

To find out more or if you have any questions, please contact Matthew Vogel, Director of Education & Engagement at mvogel@aemt.info or Heather Kibel, Executive Director, at exec@aemt.info or 732-545-6484.

Meet our Officers and Trustees

PRESIDENT

Ina Horn has been a member of Anshe Emeth since 1984, when after studying with Rabbi Miller, she became a Jew by choice. Since then, she has embraced the Jewish community in numerous ways. For years, Ina was active in the Middlesex County section of National Council of Jewish Women where she held various Board leadership positions and is a life member. For over 20 years, Ina taught at a Jewish preschool, enriching the lives of countless children while nurturing their love of Judaism. She joined the Temple Board of Trustees in 2012 and has served on the Executive Board as Financial Secretary, Second Vice President, and First Vice President before stepping into her current role as President. Ina co-chaired both the Senior Rabbi Search Committee and the Cantor Search Committee and throughout the years has acted as chair of Va'ad Torah, the Membership Committee and the Joshua Project Leadership Program. Outside of the Temple, Ina is a charter member of the Action Africa Giving Circle, a social action organization serving vulnerable women, children and families throughout Africa. Ina met her husband, Gerry, at Anshe Emeth and they were married in the sanctuary. They reside in North Brunswick and together have four children and four grandchildren.

FIRST VICE-PRESIDENT

Allison Warzala is amazed that it is already time for her to become 1st Vice President. Allison has been busy this year coordinating Zoom meet and greets for Cantor Stanton, participating on a number of committees including Budget & Finance, Fundraising and Ways & Means, chairing the Membership Va'ad and getting our fabulous Taste of Anshe Emeth series up and running. In the more than 30 years that Allison and her family have been members of Anshe Emeth, she has served as Financial Secretary, Recording Secretary and 2nd VP, as well as being involved in too many programs and committees to name. She lives in Somerset with her husband Martin and has enjoyed celebrating many life cycle events at AEMT with their children, Rachel and Jared. Hopefully soon we will be back in person so she can bring her grandson, Jason, to some of AEMT's wonderful activities. Allison is the Chief of Staff at the Rutgers Cancer Institute of New Jersey.

SECOND VICE-PRESIDENT

David Snyder, his wife Carrie, and their daughters Libby and Maddie have been members at Anshe Emeth since 2007. David received a BA from Rutgers in political science and philosophy, and a JD cum laude from Widener University School of Law. After practicing law for nine years, he moved into the corporate world. At Anshe Emeth, David has been active on the Board of Trustees, the Men's Shelter, the Rabbi's Search Committee and has led Torah study for both the MAP and the regular Saturday Torah study session. "Anshe Emeth creates myriad opportunities for positive experiences of Jewish life, where people of different interests and backgrounds can share these experiences together in an inclusive environment."

TREASURER

Andrea Schon, her husband Phil Zambrana and their children, Kayla and Mia Zambrana have been members of Anshe Emeth since 2006. She is employed as a Cloud Cost Finance Manager for Verizon. As a member of Anshe Emeth, Andrea has served as an AEMT Board Member for two years and volunteered with the AEMT Finance Committee, AETY Youth Committee (Va'ad Atid), Contemporary Passover Seder, Rummage Sale and the Women's Spirituality Group (Va'ad Nashim). "Anshe Emeth has provided my family with a nurturing environment that fosters our commitment to Judaism and community service. We have watched our children become strong, empowered and caring young women within this community. My family and I feel strongly about the continued strength and vitality of Anshe Emeth and I look forward to doing my small part to ensure that goal."

FINANCIAL SECRETARY

Laura Leibowitz has been a member of Anshe Emeth since her childhood. She is married to Seth and they have three children: Emma (husband Jon Bellomo), Taylin and Jonah. Laura works as a special education teacher for the Piscataway School District. She also teaches in our religious school supporting students with special needs. Always active, she belongs to the Kiwanis Club of Edison, currently serves as an elected County Committee member for Piscataway Township and is active with the Piscataway Progressive Democratic Organization. Laura is currently the chair of the High Holiday Avodah Annual Appeal and is a member of the Caring Community committee. Laura has served as a board of trustee for three terms. She has assisted with a great number of events and activities at AEMT. Laura is very excited to continue to bring her skills and love of Judaism and Anshe Emeth to the board.

RECORDING SECRETARY

Amy Warner, her husband, Lee, and their two sons, Seth and Aaron, have been active members of Anshe Emeth for over 12 years. Amy works in human resources for Cigna, and they've lived in East Brunswick for 21 years. At Anshe Emeth, she has been involved in the Joshua Project, Va'ad Atid - Youth Committee, and has co-chaired the AECDC Wishing Wall project. Amy has been a member of the Board of Trustees, and currently serves as Recording Secretary. "Anshe Emeth is a big part of our family. It's our home away from home. I love being a part of strengthening an organization that I care so deeply about."

SECRETARY AT LARGE

Neil Silver, his wife, Michelle, and their two daughters, Sarah and Jessica, are active members of Anshe Emeth and have lived in East Brunswick for 19 years. Neil is employed by the Department of Pediatrics at Rutgers Robert Wood Johnson Medical School in New Brunswick as the Senior Director of Administration. Currently, he is a member of the AEMT Board of Trustees. He also is an active member of the Membership Committee, serves as co-chair of the Congregational Retreat Committee (unfortunately on hold due to the pandemic), a member of the Nominating Committee the past two years, and has participated in various other subcommittees or short term assignments such as co-chairing the HS Graduation Planning Committee. "Anshe Emeth is an important part of our family focus as members. It continues to rejuvenate my interest in community involvement and I look forward to contributing to the ongoing growth and success of an organization with such similar values to mine."

TRUSTEES:

Howard Firestone has been a temple member since 1993, volunteering for many committees over the years. He has enjoyed participating in Torah study, Tanakh and Talmud classes with both lay and clergy leaders. Since joining the Board in 2020, Howard has volunteered for the Building and Grounds Committee and become an active member of the RAC-New Jersey. Howard is a retired New York City school teacher who, with his wife MaryEllen, actively support the Anshe Emeth Community Development Corporation, the Keepers lecture series as well as the Cantor's musical programs, Ohavei Tarbut. Howard and MaryEllen raised their three children, Robert, Susan and John in East Brunswick, where they continue to reside. Howard is honored to be part of the Board of Trustees as we all continue to navigate the many aspects of temple life in these most unusual times.

Jen-Eve Frace, then Heckelman, has been a member of Anshe Emeth since about 1973, when Rabbi Miller was Assistant Rabbi to Harvey Fields. Her children Robert and Anna grew up at Anshe Emeth and granddaughter Serenity was named here in 2015. Her (now) husband Mark Zaccardo converted to Judaism and became a Bar Mitzvah here as well. Jen-Eve is an Occupational Therapist, currently employed at the Department of Veterans Affairs. In earlier years she was a member of the PTO and is currently co-chair of the Woman's Spirituality Group. Jen-Eve will begin her 2nd full term as Trustee on the temple board.

Lori Ginsberg, her husband Steven, and their two daughters, Samantha and Hailey, have been devoted members of Anshe Emeth since joining the temple five years ago. Lori was in Marketing and Finance for 25 years before working in the Jewish camping world most recently, and she and her family have lived in East Brunswick for over 20 years. Lori and her family jumped into life at Anshe Emeth enthusiastically where, among other things, Lori has been involved in the Joshua Project and the temple food drives, and co-chaired the Annual Appeal and World Zionist Congress "Get Out the Vote" committees. She has been on the Board of Trustees for the past 2 years filling an open term, and is now beginning her first 3-year term. "After 'wandering the desert' for many years looking for a Jewish home, our family is grateful to be a part of Anshe Emeth. It has enriched our lives in so many ways, and I am thrilled to be able to give back by serving on the Board!"

Brian Goldenfarb and his wife, Elyssa Goldenfarb, have been members at Anshe Emeth for approximately 8 years. During their time here, their twin girls, Lauren and Rachel, were Bat Mitzvah'd in May of 2020, and their son, Joshua will become a Bar Mitzvah in September of 2021. The family has resided in North Brunswick since 2000. Brian has his own law practice in East Brunswick and has been an attorney for 23 years. Brian was on the nominating committee for the Temple and participated in the Joshua Project. This is Brian's first time being on the Board at Anshe Emeth and he is very much looking forward to working with the current Board Members and being a more active member. Brian is excited about returning to the Temple and a "better" 2021!

Leon Gurevich, his wife Lisa, and their two daughters, Rachel and Alexis, live in East Brunswick, and have been members of Anshe Emeth for the past 4 years. Their daughter Alexis has the distinction of being the first virtual Bat Mitzvah at AEMT. Born in Russia, and growing up in Canada, Leon met his wife in Atlanta before moving to NJ nearly 20 years ago. Leon works in digital media where he's currently leading global sales and strategy for a start-up delivering new media analytic and audience engagement technology. Leon went to school in Canada, at the University of Western Ontario, Richard Ivey School of Business, along with a term in Vienna, Austria at Wirtschaftsuniversität Wien. His wife Lisa is a teacher, working with Special Education students, in the Piscataway school district.

Kevin Lynn, his wife Andrea, and their three children, Jacob, Juliet, and Henry are active members of Anshe Emeth. While Jacob and Juliet have been seen regularly over the past few years singing and dancing during Friday night services, Henry is still looking forward to experiencing his first in-person services, as he was just born in October 2020. Kevin is passionate about his work as a Psychologist, and volunteers his time coaching baseball in the East Brunswick Baseball League. In fact, while attending Rutgers as a college and graduate student, Kevin taught in the Anshe Emeth Religious School for a number of years, and helped lead AEMT trips to Camp Harlam and Washington D.C. Once their children were ready to begin their own religious school years, Kevin and Andrea were so pleased to find that the Anshe Emeth community still embodied the warmth, compassion, and love of learning that had made such an impact on Kevin years ago. Joining Anshe Emeth was truly one of the easiest and most impactful decisions they feel they have ever made for their family. At Anshe Emeth, Kevin and Andrea have enjoyed making many friendships and connections in the MAP program over the past few years. Kevin has been involved in the Joshua Project, Va'ad Atid - Youth Committee, the Men's Homeless Shelter, and looks forward to even more involvement in the coming years. "Anshe Emeth has become such an important part of our foundation. Our children have developed a genuine and meaningful connection to their Judaism, and the AEMT community has helped guide us in shaping our own unique Jewish family at home."

Jeff Roth is grateful for the opportunity to continue on the AEMT Board of Trustees, having rejoined the board to complete an unexpired term in 2020-2021 after serving two prior terms from 2004-2010. During his time on the board, Jeff chaired the Annual Appeal and 50/50 raffle, served as committee lead for the Mishkan T'Filah prayer book, and co-chaired Anshe Emeth's Consultation on Conscience. Most recently, Jeff served on the temple's Governance Committee to review and update the temple's constitution and governance policies. Prior to joining the board, Jeff was treasurer for the Purim carnival for several years and co-chaired the celebration for welcoming our temple's Holocaust Torah. A career-long finance leader with experience at Bank of America, Merrill Lynch, and AT&T, Jeff stepped away from "the numbers" to become an executive and career coach. After coaching both in-house and as part of a private coaching firm, he launched his own coaching practice this year, Leading Edge Coaching & Consulting, where he works with professionals who want to improve their effectiveness, increase their readiness to take on expanded responsibilities, and grow in their careers. Jeff is an avid cyclist, photographer, and a "rebeginning" guitarist who enjoys travel, wine, and the New York Mets. Jeff and his wife, Regie (a past-president of the congregation), live in Kendall Park and have been members of Anshe Emeth since 1997. They are the parents of two adult sons, Brian and Jonathan, who attended AEMT's religious school, became Bar Mitzvah, and graduated from the temple's high school program.
